Many employers in the hospitality sector target Manchester Met and the hospitality courses in particular, for their graduate recruitment needs. Below is a list of such employers who have recruited at Manchester Met in the last few years. It is not the definitive list of recruiters, there are many more out there, nor does it guarantee that they currently have vacancies.

Some will have graduate training programmes (many of which will have closing dates) whilst others will recruit graduates to specific vacancies rather than have a generic graduate programme. It does though act as a starting point for students and graduates who are seeking careers in the hospitality sector.

The list includes Hotels, Restaurants, Contract Caterers, Conference Venues and Pub Groups. The employers are listed alphabetically. From the link, you will be able to locate the employers’ careers and vacancy information.
