MANCHESTER METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY

Statement on compliance with the Prevent duty

1. The Prevent Duty Guidance for higher education institutions in England and Wales, issued under the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 ('the Act'), came into force on 18 September 2015. This statement sets out how the University fulfils the duty it has under the Act to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.

2. A detailed response to the Act and the Prevent Duty Guidance was approved by Directorate on 21 September 2015. The response identified all of the relevant statements in the Prevent Duty Guidance and set out the current position and the further work that was required to comply with the Guidance.

3. The University seeks to strike an appropriate balance between the obligations it has under the Prevent duty and other relevant statutory responsibilities, notably the responsibility it has under the Education (No. 2) Act 1986 to secure freedom of speech under the law.

4. Compliance with the Prevent Duty Guidance is achieved through:

   (i) clear institutional leadership, management, and supporting structures;
   (ii) the operation of appropriate policies and procedures;
   (iii) effective engagement with other partners;
   (iv) appropriate staff training;
   (v) communication with staff and students;
   (vi) appropriate welfare, pastoral and chaplaincy support;
   (vii) effective management of concerns about individuals;
   (viii) effective engagement with the Students’ Union.

   Each of these elements is described in more detail below.

5. Clear institutional leadership, management and supporting structures

   The University has a Prevent Steering Group to oversee the implementation of the Prevent Duty. The Prevent Steering Group is chaired by the Registrar and includes other senior members of staff with relevant responsibilities.

6. The operation of appropriate policies and procedures

   Compliance with the Prevent duty is underpinned by a number of policies and procedures. In particular:
(i) the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech, which is reviewed regularly to ensure that it continues to meet all relevant legal requirements;
(ii) the Security Management Framework, which incorporates a Prevent Risk Assessment and an associated Action Plan;
(iii) the Policy for the Acceptable Use of University IT Services, and a process for web filtering and monitoring;
(iv) a Standard Operating Procedure for Research Involving Security Sensitive Information;
(v) information-sharing procedures, which are overseen by the University’s Legal Services department to ensure that all of the relevant legal requirements are met;
(vi) procedures for engaging with relevant external organisations and individuals, including the North West Regional Prevent Co-ordinator for FE/HE, and the police.

Through briefings, web-based information and other means, the University endeavours to ensure that these policies and procedures are properly followed and applied.

7. Effective engagement with other partners

The Head of Security and Business Continuity is the single point of contact for the operational delivery of Prevent-related activity, has regular scheduled meetings with the North West Regional Prevent Co-ordinator for FE/HE, and sits on the Manchester Prevent Steering Group and the Manchester Prevent Champions Network. Other senior members of staff liaise with external partners as required.

8. Appropriate staff training

Key groups of staff, including security officers and professional services staff in student-facing roles, receive Prevent-related training, principally through a bespoke training package that has been developed by the University for this purpose. The training package is also delivered to other groups of staff, including academic staff.

9. Communication with staff and students

Communication with staff about the Prevent duty is undertaken through a briefing note, which is sent annually to all staff from the Registrar. Communication with students is undertaken jointly with the Students’ Union.
10. Appropriate welfare, pastoral and chaplaincy support

   Welfare and pastoral support for students is provided by the Student Support Services department and (for students in University halls of residence) the Residential Life team within the Residential Services department. Chaplaincy services are co-ordinated by the Student Support Services department and provided mainly through the St Peter’s House Church and Chaplaincy.

   The Student Referral guide that is produced annually by the Student Support Services department and distributed to all members of academic staff includes a section on concerns about radicalisation of students, which references the responsibilities the University has under the Prevent duty.

   The University has a policy for the use of prayer rooms and a Management Group for its Muslim Prayer Room, which includes student representatives.

11. Effective management of concerns about individuals

   The University takes a consistent approach to the management of concerns about individuals under the Prevent duty, and has a protocol for engaging with external agencies about these matters.

12. Effective engagement with the Students’ Union

   The University works closely with the Students’ Union over the operation of policies and procedures that underpin compliance with the Prevent duty, particularly the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech and communication with students. The Chief Executive Officer of the Students’ Union is a member of the Prevent Steering Group. The Students’ Union ensures that appropriate training is provided for Students’ Union staff and elected officers.

13. The Statement on compliance with the Prevent duty is reviewed annually by the University’s Prevent Steering Group.
